

TenDelta designs and implements technology solutions for investment managers, banks, investors and service providers across the capital markets, with a specific focus on the syndicated and direct (bilateral) loan asset classes.

Having founded TenDelta in 2008, Bhavik Katira currently holds the position of Chief Executive Officer. He is responsible for defining and executing their global growth strategy. Under his leadership, the organization has grown from a single client in 2008 to a range of clients across the capital markets, today. TenDelta's development headquarters are in Minneapolis, MN, with satellite operations in Boston, MA and New York, NY.

In February 2007, Bhavik Katira became the Chair of the newly formed FpML Syndicated Loan Working Group within ISDA, closely coordinating with the LSTA FpML Business Working Group. TenDelta continues to lead the FpML initiative, in accordance with ISDA guidelines, contributing as XML designers and business process specialists.

Prior to TenDelta, Bhavik was employed by UBS Investment Bank for over 10 years, initially based in London and relocating to Stamford, CT thereafter. Primarily, he was responsible for helping UBS define and execute their technology strategy within the global loan markets.

Working as a Director within their Syndicated Loan Technology Group, Bhavik was responsible for various 'change' initiatives across UBS; most notably he led the development of their proprietary Global Syndicated Loan Trading and Settlement platform, from inception.

Bhavik holds a Masters degree in Information Systems Engineering (MEng.) from The Imperial College of Science, Technology and Medicine in London, UK.
