THE U.S. LEVERAGED LOAN MARKET

WHY THE LSTA?

Since 1995, the LSTA has been the industry's premier platform for all participants in the rapidly evolving corporate loan market.

Thanks to its members, who include a who's who of thought leaders from major firms industry-wide—including buy-side, sell-side, and supporting services (legal, accounting, consulting, technology, analytics, clearing, and settlement)—the LSTA has remained singularly focused on its core mission: to promote a fair, orderly, efficient, and growing corporate loan market while advancing and balancing the interests of all market participants.

The LSTA achieves its mission in four key ways: leadership, advocacy, education, and insights.

■ LEADERSHIP

The LSTA is committed to providing the critical leadership that is essential for the continuation of the leveraged loan market's strong growth:

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

By including leaders and practitioners from all facets of the industry—syndications, capital markets, leveraged finance, investment management, compliance, operations, settlement, data analytics, and legal—the LSTA fosters the dialog and thought leadership that are essential for facilitating just and equitable market principles and promoting confidence among all participants.

BEST PRACTICES

By working consensually, the LSTA and its members develop best practices and standards that make the loan market fair and equitable. These groups range from the LSTA board of directors to standing committees to working groups that tackle specific challenges and issues. We encourage LSTA members to join one or more groups to help make a difference.

STANDARDS AND STANDARDIZATION

Standardizing loan documentation, especially in relation to trading, is at the core of the LSTA's mission to create a more efficient and fairer market. Document updates and changes are developed by consensus among key market participants. We publish timely market advisories to help resolve market issues, hold continuing legal education (CLE) seminars throughout the year, and present at legal conferences in the U.S. and abroad.

MEDIATION SERVICES

The LSTA is delighted to offer mediation of loan transaction-related disputes as a member service to all FULL members. LSTA Executive Vice Presidents, Ellen Hefferan, Bridget Marsh, and Tess Virmani are qualified mediators, having completed the New York State Bar Association's mediation training courses and together having more than 70 years of legal experience – far more than the 10 years required of each individual lawyer to serve on the New York Supreme Court (New York County) roster of mediators. Having been trained by renowned mediator and President of Resolve Mediation Services, Inc., Simeon Baum, the LSTA's mediators are well equipped to facilitate discussions amongst our members who are embroiled in a dispute to help them identify issues and seek ways to achieve a mutually acceptable settlement.

ESG

The LSTA provides critical thought leadership in ESG for the corporate loan market and has become the go-to resource for guidance on best practices. In addition to addressing regulatory trends and issues with dozens of published articles and webinars, the LSTA issued a first-of-its kind Due Diligence Questionnaires (DDQ) for Borrowers and Managers. It was this innovative thought leadership that most recently led to the creation and launch of ESG Integrated Disclosure Project (ESG IDP). The ESG IDP represents a year-long industry collaboration to harmonize ESG reporting to address the key challenges in the private credit and syndicated loan markets. The Template developed by the ESG IDP establishes a baseline of ESG information on borrowers that covers both qualitative and quantitative data on those ESG factors that lenders consider most material to them.

OPERATIONS AND SETTLEMENT

Drawing on our expertise in operations, documentation, and data-driven analytics, the LSTA staff committees and working groups provide the critical leadership needed to reduce settlement times, establish market standards, and identify best practices for MEIs, CEIs cusips and more. The LSTA provides members with operational advice, guidance, and assistance on a host of daily issues.

■ ADVOCACY

LSTA advocates on behalf of all participants in the leveraged loan market, working directly with regulators and legislators to maintain a fair, orderly, and efficient marketplace that engenders confidence:

REGULATION

The LSTA actively monitors emerging regulatory issues and has rigorously advocated the industry's position on several important proposed SEC rules such as the Private Funds Disclosure Rule and Climate and ESG Disclosure rules for public companies and private funds. The LSTA is also very active on Capitol Hill, engaging with members of the House and Senate on proposed legislation and hearings impacting the loan market. The LSTA also engages in amicus litigation to support key legal principles in cases of importance. Most recently the LSTA filed amicus briefs in the Revlon Mistaken Payments case and the Kirschner case. In both cases the position taken by the LSTA was affirmed in the courts.

LEGAL

As the acknowledged voice of the leveraged loan market, the LSTA has played an active role when legal issues, including the submission of numerous Amicus Briefs, have arisen. One brief resulted in a favorable U.S. Supreme Court ruling regarding credit bidding, preserving a fundamental right for senior secured lenders.

■ EDUCATION

In the corporate loan market, practice and operational issues differ widely compared to other areas of the capital markets. For this reason, the LSTA is committed to developing and making available a wide range of educational content. We streamline access to insights and knowledge for our members as well as regulators and legislators through the following:

ONLINE RESOURCES

As a member, you have access to a full set of easily accessible online resources, including webcasts, podcasts, presentations, white papers, editorial supplements, and data analytics.

LSTA UNIVERSITY

We have created LSTA University to fulfill on our educational promise. This online “University” is the place that industry participants—at every level and area of expertise—can come to do a deeper dive on the loan market.

Whether you are a seasoned practicing attorney looking for the latest in trading documents for your clients, a market leader looking for trading data and insights, or a new operations manager looking to better understand best practices in settlement, we have the core pieces of information that can help you do your job better, faster and more accurately.

LSTA NEWSLETTER

The LSTA publishes a highly regarded weekly newsletter that follows and educates members on key issues emerging in the loan market. The newsletter is an important resource for keeping LSTA members abreast of important regulatory matters (such as LIBOR, risk retention, custody, and more), market trends (such as loan trading and settlement statistics), and new LSTA guidance and documents (such as KYC, shift dates, delayed compensation, and more).

LSTA EVENTS

The series of LSTA-sponsored conferences held each year throughout the world (New York, Philadelphia, London and Asia) is widely acknowledged as the premier group of events in the corporate loan industry—a key way to stay current on rapidly changing developments, and learn from top experts while participating in peer-to-peer learning and sharing activities.

■ INSIGHTS

As a member of the LSTA, you have exclusive access to a wide range of high-quality data and analysis, including

- 360-degree quantitative insights into the loan market's performance and growth through trade data, settlement time statistics for par and distressed trades, established shift dates, and more.
