

Director, EMEA Market Analysis

Refinitiv is one of the world's largest providers of financial markets data and infrastructure, serving over 40,000 institutions in over 190 countries. It provides leading data and insights, trading platforms, and open data and technology platforms that connect a thriving global financial markets community – driving performance in trading, investment, wealth management, regulatory compliance, market data management, enterprise risk and fighting financial crime.

Refinitiv's Capital Markets Insight group is made up of three businesses that provide news, data and analysis via print and websites to capital markets participants, enabling them to make informed decisions on transactions and strategies. These businesses include:

- LPC (Loan Pricing Corporation) providing comprehensive data, news and analysis for the Global Syndicated Loan and CLO Markets
- IFR (International Financing Review) providing full coverage and context for the primary capital markets across all asset classes
- PFI (Project Finance International) providing global energy and infrastructure finance news, data and analysis

Role Description

We are seeking an analyst to join our team in London to gather and analyze loan market data. He/she will support our team of senior market analyst in evaluating data and producing market statistics and commentary that our clients count on to make strategic and transactional decisions. They will also help manage and prioritize data acquisition efforts to support our product and analytical needs and address client requests.

The ideal candidate will be familiar with and anxious to learn more about capital markets and what drives them, and will be experienced with using Excel/Access and other tools to manipulate and aggregate market data.

Role Responsibilities

- Use Excel/Access to aggregate data for market analysis and evaluate data quality
- Support senior analysts with data evaluations and analysis.
- Create regular and ad hoc data tables and charts to be published on our product and in senior market analysts' presentations
- Respond to client queries regarding our data and analysis, and provide high-level support to users.
- Support data analysts in sourcing critical data and evaluating data quality.
- Continuously seek to improve on internal research tools, processes and production environments

Qualifications and Experience Required

- BA in finance/accounting, economics, statistics or other related field
- Strong data and analytical capabilities are required. This includes demonstrable expertise with Excel/Access and an organized approach to projects and communications.
- Willingness and ability to work with multiple teams and personalities across our groups, including for instance strategy, sales, product management, editorial and other analysts.
- An understanding of contractual loan terms and how to find and interpret them is would be very helpful.
- Strong communication skills are necessary for working with senior analysts and clients regularly.
