

John Gally is a Managing Director in the Fixed Income Division and Head of North America Leveraged Finance Sales and Trading, where he oversees trading, distribution, analytics, and CLO origination. He is a member of the Fixed Income Management Committee.

John joined Morgan Stanley in September 2010, as a Vice President in Leveraged Loan Trading. Prior to his current role, John served as Co-Head of NA Investment Grade and High Yield Trading, as well as Head of NA Leveraged Loan Trading.

Before joining Morgan Stanley, John held senior trading positions at Jefferies Group and Deutsche Bank. He has 18 years of industry experience and currently serves on the board of the Loan Sales and Trading Association. John earned a B.S. in economics from Fairfield University in 2000.

John resides in Westchester County with his wife and three sons.