

Analyst - Credit Markets Division (Loan Closer Opportunity)

We're looking for a candidate with a thirst to deepen their financial knowledge and leverage their entry level financial services experience to join our credit trading platform at Macquarie. This is an LSTA and bespoke loan closing role working with direct lenders. You will be immersed within business operations and have an opportunity to leverage your subject matter expertise in the leverage loans space alongside our sales and lending team. This role offers the flexibility to split work from home or at the office.

Reporting directly into the head of Loan Closing you'll support key revenue generators drafting trade documents for leveraged loans, onboarding new clients and guiding them throughout the closing process.

In this highly visible role, you will be responsible for seeing transactions end to end, ensuring deals are booked, documents are drafted and liaising with the back office and client to ensure transactions are settled on-time. In this role you will also have daily interaction with external clients while you work through the document negotiation and drafting process alongside our legal team. Possessing a strong professional image and communication style will ensure that you are successful in this role.

The key qualities we're looking for are the ability to manage and prioritize multiple transactions simultaneously, strong interpersonal, stakeholder and client management skills.

To be successful you will have:

- 2+ years of experience working in similar role
- exposure to credit markets products - leveraged loan market and trade claim closing process exposure preferred
- an ability to draft bespoke par participation agreements and trade confirmation
- an ability to draft bespoke funding memorandums and funds flows
- be process driven and flexible to changes in loan market
- possess a strong understanding of the leveraged loan market and trade claim closing process preferred
